SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY DROWNED AT TAWATINAW

Was Bathing in Water Hole on Creek, and Got Beyond His Depth

Thrown in a water hole beside Tawatinaw creek, Monday last, the death of 16-year-old Lawrence Blair, the third child of the family, is reported to Edmonton. Blair, who was a student at the Tawatinaw school, died of his death in the creek. Blair, who was a student at the Tawatinaw school, died of his death in the creek.

According to the report received from Constable K. R. Henrich of the Tawatinaw division of the Alberta provincial police, Lawrence Blair, with another McGuire, James Gordon, Willie Shaw and several other boys, left about Monday afternoon last and proceeded to the water hole to bathe. Blair had finished his swimming. Blair took the water and swam to the edge of McGuire. When from the water beyond his depth. He was seen to be in difficulty immediately and McGuire, who had just started dressing, plunged into the water in an effort to save the drowning boy. Blair had gone under the second time when McGuire clutched the hair of his head and began to swim ashore, but here Blair began to reach the boy who was endeavoring to save him. With the cry of "quit," released McGuire and immediately swam ashore. McGuire made other efforts to recover the boy, but McGuire was not able to do so. McGuire was not able to do so. ANTI-NORRIS LITERALS
Liberal candidates in Winnipeg, opposed to the Norris government, are Neil T. Carey, J. H. Gleason, David J. Lewis. They announce that they are pledged to economy and an abatement of tax burdens. They condemn the Norris government because:
1. It has been reckless and extravagant.
2. It has shown an utter disregard for the traditions and ideals of liberalism and responsible government.
3. It has repudiated the pledges of economy and parsimony in order that "tenders for public enterprises be opened in public."
4. It has, by loose and ineffectual administration, permitted the Manitoba Temperance Act to degenerate into an "Act of Intemperance."

CANADA ROBBED BY IMPLEMENT MANUFACTURERS

Tractors Sold to Subsidiary Companies in Canada at False Value to Avoid Duty

Ottawa, June 25.—How implement manufacturers in the United States sold tractors to subsidiary companies in Canada at a false value in order to avoid customs duty, was brought out before the public accounts committee of the common's Friday.

"It looks like connivance between companies to make a false declaration without becoming amenable to the law. It was evidently a case of 'cut-throat' hands were used in the order-in-council, they found a way to circumvent it," was how H. B. McCreary, chairman, expressed himself when an alleged loss of $407,000 in customs duty was proved.

E. H. McCreary (Promo), asked if the dumping clause of the customs act was not available to stop the practice "the price of the machine to the importer was all we had to do to," he replied:

"The country was simply robbed. We might as well be plain about it," commented Mr. Rose.

Mr. Rose explained that subsequently the order-in-council amended to fix the value instead of the sale price for duty purposes. This stopped the trouble.

LONDONDERRY IS BECOMING NORMAL AFTER FIGHTING
Banks and Many Shops Are Open and People Venture Out on Streets

Londonderry, June 25.—Londonderry since Friday last, the scene of violent street warfare between Unionists, Nationalists and Sinn Féin factions, is becoming a normal condition. The banks and many shops were open, and people ventured into the streets. The food supply was not affected, and the town still without gas.

Following between the warring factions since midnight was confined to fighting, the civil elements evidently fearing to attempt massed activities in view of the increased military forces.

The soldiers, in trying to ferret out snipers, took over St. Columbkille's church tower in the city and had shelled a number of snipers.

'The Road to Divorce,' a Cinematic Treat, at the Regent

Those who see Mary MacLaren in her latest Universal picture, "The Road to Divorce," at the Regent theatre next Thursday will be given a real cinematic treat.

It is a story that has been presented in a masterful way by Philip Hearn the director, and it contains some of the most beautiful scenes of the sea that have ever been seen on the screen. The wonderful photography would alone be worth going to see.

The story concerns a young couple who thought their happiness was complete when they were married. The wife, however, neglected her husband and gave no time to her personal appearance.

A girl friend, carefully groomed, always exquisitely dressed, came to visit the family. The husband contrasted her with his wife to the latter's disadvantage and soon convinced himself that he no longer cared for the mother of his children.

He took a violent upheaval in their love to bring him to his senses. The climax of the story has been achieved in a wonderful way and the picture is easily one of the best ones of the season.

Mrs. MacLaren has the support of capable acting support from Edward Bell, Bonnie Hill, Eugenie Ford, Helen Davison, Roy Slicker and others.

GUARDING CROWN JEWELS

The crown jewels are no longer in the Tower of London. They have been removed to one of the vaults beneath the dome of Trafalgar square.

Even there, however, they could hardly be safer than when replying at their ordinary home in the Waterloo Road, where, as most people are aware, they are kept under the most rigid guard, enclosed by a sort of iron cage.

One and one-half million pounds worth of the jewels are in the custody of the crown. The bars of the latter are quite slender, and the glass is the ordinary shop window kind. Nevertheless, it would be hard with anybody who tried to tamper with them.

For each of these three hundred steel bars is connected with a series of electric bell alarm, and the slightest attempt to tamper with them would set alarm bells clanging all over the tower.

At the same instant a hidden series of tempered steel concealed in the floor of the tower would be set in motion, so that in a few seconds the jewels would be automatically enclosed in a vault, so that in a few minutes and a slight electric signal would set in motion a series of steel bars which would enclose the jewels in a vault.

The jewels are in a group of young women, easy to look at, and the outer gates of the tower would also close automatically.

GAUTIER'S BRICKLAYERS PROVE
THERE IS STILL SOMETHING NEW
UNDER THE SUN IN VAUDEVILLE

Clever Dogs and Monkey Build House With Real Bricks and Mortar on Pantages Stage—Vera Hurt's Synopsized Steppers Are Added Attraction

It used to be said that "there is nothing new under the sun," but those who see Gautier's Bricklayers, headlined at next week's Pantages bill, will disagree with the truth of the old saying. These and vaudeville, members of the overall club for the time being, and carrying mortar and bricks like fully qualified masons of bricklayers' union, Local 4-1-4-1, build a small house on the stage. The work is all efficiently done in the absence of their trainer. This is an entirely new stunt and will greatly please the audience.

Vera Hurt and her Synopsized Steppers, present the added attraction, and they all certainly show a mean how. This is one of the latest dancing acts in vaudeville, the troupe consisting of a young woman and five nimble-footed men. Their imitation of Piquet the darling of the New York roof gardens, is alone worth the price of admission.

Harris and Manion, a prominent place on the bill in a brand new comedy act. An old sport from the country comes to the city to visit his nephew and is greatly charmed when the young man takes him to grand opera, rather than the burlesque show which the old gentleman was hoping to see.

The Lubers' Quartette is a group of young women, easy to look at, and the outer gates of the tower would also close automatically.

HARRIS AND MANION, presenting "Uncle Jerry at the Opry," as a feature of next week's Pantages vaudeville bill.

James H. Hosen was shot several times and it is believed he will die. Lee and Ed Hosen are under arrest. James Hosen fired the shot which killed the officer, according to the police.

The trouble started following an investigation by the police of a disturbance there Thursday night. Officers, armed with riot gear, surrounded the house, Friday morning. McGinnis and Detective Hulse at James started up the steps to make the arrest when the police say Hosen opened fire with a shotgun. One of the officers was said to be a woman.

Another Bird
Dear Uncle Tom—Can you tell the name of a bird with yellow on head and back, black on neck and white breast. I am five years old. Please send me a badge?—J. Burge.

You will have to send me particulars about the bird you mean, Richard. Tell me the size, color, markings, also anything you know about its habits, its nest, its eggs and eggs. The two you mention may be the same bird, or as large as a mallard, for all I know, so I cannot even make a guess at the name. Write again and tell more, and I shall be glad to let you have one of my new badges, Uncle Tom.

Worked On The Land
Dear Uncle Tom—I received badge No. 100. I like it very much. I am quite right. We have the best of the land here. It is called cattle. We have ten

HOME BUILDERS TO THE DOMINION

Buffalo Almost Ext exterminated By Indians and Early Settlers Now Multiply Rapidly at Wainwright

Few animals are of such interest to Canadians and especially to westerners as the buffalo. It is of the West that he is typical, and over the prairie for untold centuries he was monarch of all he surveyed. Moreover it is in the West that he is being brought back to his own. No story in animal history is as gallant as that which tells how the buffalo was ruthlessly exterminated by advancing civilization.

Originally they roamed the prairie in millions. They summered as far south as Great Slave Lake and came north for their winter feed to what is now southern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Only to head north again, often a month before the snow was off the ground, they began eating the alfalfa that they had waited for hours and even days for the immense herds to come by before they could resume their journey. Yet, numbers as they were, they suddenly disappeared.

For this there are probably several reasons. The annual death toll in their journey north to the winter mouk has been often proven. No harrier was great enough to kill them. Herd after herd, they fearfully plunged into rivers and lakes and were pushed on by the mass which, in trying to cross, the weaker led while the herd frequently broke through and were drowned. They often swam in the open water and ice. It was well known that there are islands today in the Mississippi river that are the carcasses of drowned buffaloes.

The yearly kill by hunters amounted to hundreds of thousands. One company alone shot 25,000 in one year. Besides these, thousands were killed for food and clothing while the meat was left to rot. Thousands of others were killed for their hides in countless numbers mostly from an uncontrollable lust for skins.

To the buffalo the Indian looked for every all necessities of life. They supplied clothing and shelter for thousands of them and hence may disappear almost overnight. The Indians killed them for their hides and their bones. Just before the buffalo was exterminated the first men on the verge of starvation.

Not content with killing indiscriminately, the hunters even sent men to the north to burn the grass to prevent the animals from coming back to breed. Whether for this reason or not they never went up there to hunt. Instead they crossed into Montana and when they were back in Alberta the herd is not certain. The last to be killed in Alberta was the "young of the year" in 1913 and 1915.

And this was the end of the buffalo in the work of destruction. It may have been some domestic which was the cause of the domestication of the buffalo. It was then that the buffalo and his partner bison were the only animals which were hunted for their skins. He turned them loose on the reservation. They lived under conditions of freedom except for a yearly roundup to keep them together. There they continued to increase until their numbers were unknown to even the Indians. Finally the American Government decided to open the reserve for settlement so the buffalo was forced to sell his herd.

The Canadian Government proved to be the earliest purchaser and before the others could move Canada had contracted to buy the buffalo. After one of the most thrilling buffalo hunts of all time 780 animals were finally rounded up, and after great difficulty they were shipped and shipped to Canada. Of these 780 were finally delivered in order at Wainwright. This was one of the last purchases ever made by the Canadian government even though they paid $100 per head.

YOU'LL LAUGH!

CORNS LIFT OFF

Does a hurt at all and costs only few cents

Magical! Just drop a little Frezcon on that nasty corn, instantly it stops aching, then you lift the corn off with the fingers.

Frezcon. Your druggist sells a 10¢ bottle for a few cents, sufficient to lift your feet of every hard corn, corn, or corn between the toes and calluses, without one particle of pain, pressure or irritation. Frezcon is the discovery of a noted Canadian genius.

Since their arrival at Buffalo Park, Wainwright, they have been steadily increasing in number. Until today Canada has nearly 4,500 in captivity, besides a herd in their native state in the far north. The Park at Wainwright contains about 4,500, Elk Lake Park at Lamont 175, Head Lake at Vancouver 5, Brandon 10, Winnipeg 10, Hamilton 10, Quebec Province 10, Toronto 4 and a few are scattered among the various other cities.

The herd in the north are known as Wood Bison or Buffalo-bison because they have been known for many years, twenty or more. The herd has been of about the same size during all this time—that is about 150. They were first taken to the Park in 1894, and north of Fort Smith, where they were first taken to the Park, by the Mounted Police. The chances are, though, that their numbers are kept down by both man and beast.

Various theories are advanced to explain the existence of this herd so far north. Some think they are the last of the plains herd west north to escape the hunters, and they have never since left their retreat. Others again hold that they are a separate species, whose natural environment was wooded country. Scientific theory seems to be in the background for this idea for they seem to differ from the herd in the south in many respects. They are said to be more tame and are a little more like the deer than the bison.

Only a few are kept in the Park. The rest are scattered in the north and south. They are said to be more tame and are a little more like the deer than the bison. Only a few are kept in the Park. ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-LIVE"

MR. AMDEKE GARCKE

32 Hickory St., Ottawa, Ont.

"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1912, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work of that district."

"I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician, but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-Live' and in a week I was able to get up and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again. 'I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-Live', as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise anyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-Live' a trial."

GOOD DEMAND FOR POTATOES AT CITY MARKET

Large Quantity of Potatoes Sold
During Week—Dairy Butter
Lower in Price

The offering of potatoes on the Rice street market during the past week was heavier than for some time. Since Monday approximately ten tons were brought in by farmers and they had no difficulty in disposing of them at prices ranging from $2.75 to $3.00 per bushel. Most of the potatoes offered by farmers are of white varieties and very good in quality.

The supply of dairy butter offered has also been unusually heavy and is being sold at a lower price than for the last two or three weeks. Most farmers are now asking from 45c to 50c, and the quality of the butter that has been offered is well above the average. The offering of eggs was fairly heavy but the demand was somewhat light. Most farmers and dealers were selling at 40c per dozen. In fresh vegetables the principal items offered were radishes, lettuce, rhubarb, and onions. All of these items have been in fairly good demand. Lettuce is still selling for the per bunch; rhubarb, four pounds for 25c, and onions and radishes at 5c per bunch.

THE RECEIPTS OF CREAM ARE QUITE HEAVY

Prices Remain Unchanged—Demand for Alberta Butter Is Heavy

Cream prices remain the same as they have been for the last two weeks. Most firms in Edmonton are quoting 51c, 41c and 45c. Since the cows have got on the grass and regained their normal condition the receipts have increased considerably, and Central Alberta is getting into her stride in cream production. Most firms report that the receipts of cream at the present time are equal to what they were last year at the same time.

Butter is still selling at 40c per best quality in cask. The export is fairly heavy. In Montreal the demand for butter is somewhat firmer than last week, and there is an exceptionally good demand for Alberta butter in Vancouver. Considerable butter is going to Vancouver at the present time.

The receipts of dairy butter have increased considerably. At most country points throughout Central Alberta farmers are getting from 35c to 40c per pound. The quality is only fair.

EGG MARKET SHOWS LITTLE VARIATION

Quality of Receipts Poor—35c to 38c at Country Points—Some Eggs Being Stored

There has been no change in the price of eggs since last week. The receipts are fairly light, and most dealers report that the quality is not too good. Large quantities of weak or weak eggs are being put on the market, and when held for any length of time show up to a disadvantage. Dealers are offering from 35c to 38c at country points, delivered, less of to shippers. Though the receipts are falling off there is still some surplus over consumptive requirements that are being stored.

Chick Hatching at 30c
At Edmonton eggs are retailing at various prices ranging from 40c to 45c per dozen, depending upon the quality. The bulk, however, are selling at 30c. This has been the prevailing price in the city market for some time.

Revival of Export Trade
In the east there has been quite a revival in the export trade, and it is reported that a number of sales have been made for full by country packers in the eastern provinces. A small shipment of from three went to Great Britain last week.

The Dominion poultry division quoted the following prices being paid last Wednesday:
